DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's preliminary amendment filed December 12, 2005 is acknowledged and entered. Claims 1-29 and 35-38 are pending and subject to the following restriction.

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

- Group I, claim(s) 1-3 and 35-38, drawn to a composition comprising at least two recombinant rabies virus-neutralizing human antibodies.
- Group II, claim(s) 4-21, drawn to a method of treating or preventing rabies virus infection by administering the composition of Group I.
- Group III, claim(s) 22-29, drawn to a recombinant expression vector, host cell and method of producing antibodies the antibodies of Group I.

3. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The asserted special technical feature is an antibody or antibodies having a light chain (SEQ ID NO: 2, 6 or 7), and a heavy chain (SEQ ID NO: 1, 4 or 9), respectively. An antibody comprising SEQ ID NO: 7 and SEQ ID NO: 9, is monoclonal antibody SO57, produced by hybridoma J57. The specification teaches that Diestzschold et al. (Journal of Virology, June 1990, 64(6):3087-3090, "Diestzschold") discloses the SO57 antibody (see page 16, second full paragraph). Diestzschold discloses nine stable hybridomas, two of which produced monoclonal antibodies that bind to rabies G protein. One of the G-reactive antibodies is Mab 57, which is able to neutralize many rabies virus strains (page 3087, second column, and Table 2). The hybridoma that produces Mab 57 is entirely expected to produce antibodies comprising SEQ ID NO: 7 and SEQ ID NO: 9. Diestzschold also discloses that it is necessary to generate additional human MAbs to obtain a "cocktail" of antibodies that neutralize G protein and RNP proteins (page 3089, second column, last paragraph). Since Diestzschold discloses the hybridoma that produces Mab 57 and the use of the antibodies in combination with other virus-neutralizing antibodies to the G protein and RNP protein, the asserted special technical feature is anticipated. Therefore, there is no special technical feature linking the claimed inventions and the claims lack unity of invention.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention. The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Should Applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

6. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained.

Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoiner in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoiner. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
